Just a few minutes' drive from the popular village of Macisvenda is this 160 square meter property for reformation or new build and would make a fantastic project. Although in the mountains and a little outside of the village, there are a scattering of homes nearby. The property incorporates some cave area and a good size 2 story frontage. The land which is both front and back is approximately 2000 square meters. Electricity and Water are not connected; however, this could easily be a totally green home with solar power and village water.
