Welcome to this charming corner house in popular Torre La Mata, Torrevieja – a home that radiates warmth, light and tranquility. Here you live close to the sea and everything you need for comfortable everyday life, yet enjoy a private atmosphere thanks to the property's excellent corner position. As you enter, you are greeted by a bright and inviting living room with several windows letting in plenty of natural light. There's space for both a cozy lounge area and a dining table, and from this room you have direct access to the spacious terrace – one of the home's true highlights. The plot faces south and is surrounded by greenery, offering both shade and privacy. There's room for several seating areas, sun loungers and a barbecue corner – perfect for long meals under the Spanish sky. Garden lover...
